Wrangell Has Her First Base Ball Game

The initial event upon the grounds of the Wrangell Recreation Park occurred last Sunday, the attraction being a game (?) of base ball between the regular Wrangell team and a team made up from the employees of the Sanitary Packing Co., (the smokes). If there was anybody in attendance that was not interested and highly amused there was certainly something wrong with their digestion or they were suffering from mental dyspepsia in an aggravated form. The game was spirited from start to finish, the players being in fine form, and in running the bases all showed alacrity and good training some of the slides to base plates were extremely clever and juicy. The result of the game was a score of seven to seven in favor of the audience and fans. Of course the game was not a success professionally although mirth provoking, the grounds not yet being in perfect condition, but the event certainly demonstrated the fact that the people of Wrangell are in favor of a fine recreation park, therefore, the start having been made along the right lines it is up to us all to complete the work begun. There is no doubt that when the fruition of the plans adopted for the park is fully realized, Wrangell will have the finest and most beautiful park as well as the best ball ground in the whole of Alaska.

Red Men's Annual Ball

The Improved Order of Red Men will give a dance in their hall Saturday evening, July 3rd. The reputation of the Red Men in events of this kind is sufficient guarantee for a good time. The Metlakatla band will furnish music for the occasion.

Alaska Schools Are Scattered

In Alaska there are maintained seventy-seven schools with an enrollment of 3,563, and an average attendance of 1,797. Some of these are on islands of the frozen ocean that are in touch with the outside world only once or twice a year, while during eight months of the year all of them, with the exception of those on the southern coast, are reached only by trails over snow-covered land or frozen rivers.

Observe the order of the city council concerning the use of fire crackers and other explosives within the city limits and govern yourselves accordingly.

Grand Celebration On July 5th.

Wrangell is going to have one grand glorious celebration this 4th of July from the looks of things. The celebration will start next Saturday night at the big dance to be given by the Red Men in their hall. The music for the dance will be furnished by the famous Metlakatla Concert Band who will also be in attendance all during the celebration which is a guarantee that we are going to have some of the greatest music obtainable. Sunday will be spent with a concert by the band and base ball game in the afternoon and a Minstrel Show at the Rink in the evening, and then comes Monday, the big day. The street sports will start early in the morning and will continue until 11:30 when Patriotic Exercises will be held in Red Men's Hall and then the remainder of the street sports will be held and then the water sports and to end the celebration a pig dance will be given at the Rink by the Metlakatla Band. Below we give a summary of the sports and prizes but as the committees have not completed their work they are not official.

J. L. McPherson Boosting For Alaska Anniversary

J. L. McPherson, representing the Alaska Bureau of the New Chamber of Commerce of Seattle, stopped off here Monday, on his way north to interview the business men and citizens in reference to their ideas of a proper celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the acquisition of Alaska by the United States. This paper, some months ago, expressed the opinion that the event should be celebrated in Alaska by Alaskans and we still adhere to that opinion. The plan suggested by Mr. McPherson seems to be a good one, the arranging for a celebration in the different towns of Alaska upon dates that will make it possible for excursion parties coming from the outside to attend the events successively as they travel through the territory, being afforded sufficient time to carefully examine the exhibits of the natural resources of each separate locality that may be on exhibition.

That there should be no misunderstanding of the sentiment of our people the Chamber of Commerce, at a special meeting adopted the following resolutions:

WHEREAS: the year 1917 will be the fiftieth anniversary of the acquisition of the Territory of Alaska by the United States, an event which has proven to be the greatest material benefit to our people, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED: by the Wrangell Chamber of Commerce, of Wrangell, Alaska, that this event should be commemorated by a celebration throughout Alaska on dates that will not conflict, and which will permit of the greatest participation by official representatives and visitors, who should be urged to visit the Territory for that purpose, and, be it further

RESOLVED: That the town of Wrangell should provide for a one days celebration to be held in 1917 on a date to be fixed at some future time, when an exhibit of Wrangell's resources should be made.

Adopted by a special meeting of the Wrangell Chamber of Commerce held on July 28, 1915, at Wrangell, Alaska.

Attest: J. L. McPherson, President.
Paul F. Stange, Secretary.

Naturalized To Be An Alaskan

To be born, bred and raised in the United States of America and yet to believe that naturalization papers were necessary to become a citizen of Alaska is the record of a man who applied in Seward the other day for his papers. He went into Clerk Lang's office and asked for the application form. After having filled up most of it he came to the place where he was asked to state where he was born. He wrote "Burlington, Iowa."

Plan To Honor Bishop Rowe

A movement is reported to be on foot among Alaskans to somewhat reward Bishop Rowe for his long services in the northland. The plan has not been fully outlined as yet but it has been suggested that subscription lists be circulated for volunteer offerings. Bishop Rowe is getting along in years and has given the northland the best part of his life since he was ordained twenty years ago, musing over the long trails of Alaska, establishing hospitals and missions. During the time he has been bishop of Alaska Bishop Rowe has lost his wife and son. He has never asked for anything save for others and no doubt his numerous friends and well-wishers will respond liberally if given an opportunity to show their appreciation of his good work.

Printing Point Does Not Bob Up and Down

In an L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter the point on the paper which is to receive the type impression is stationary at the instant the type hits. The carriage does not bob up and down when the shift is made to write capitals.

Why?

Because the type is shifted—not the carriage.

The only movement of the carriage is back and forth on its closely adjusted ball bearing runways—and this does not take place while the print is being made. There is no lifting of the carriage.

This is one reason why L. C. Smith & Bros. type-writing is free from blurs and every letter in the right place.

Buster Grant returned this morning from Vixon, where he has spent the past two weeks with Charley Darwell.

Frank Gingrass made a trip over to his farm on Farm Island, last Sunday. While there he sunk a well. He reports a good crop coming up.

Superintendent Shott, of the A. P. A. cannery, remembered his friends in town with as fine cuts of king salmon as any one would want to see or even eat. Thanks.

Mrs. Roy Cole, of Klawock, was a visitor in town the early part of the week. Mrs. Cole was on her way to California for a visit to her old home and expects to spend some time visiting her relatives and many friends in that state.

Miss Marjory Grant, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Grant, accompanied Mrs. Roy Cole to California, where she will spend some time visiting her aunt, Mr. Grant's sister.

P. I. Gorman, the veteran cannery man of southeastern Alaska, came in on the Uncle Dan from Shakan where he has been for a few days looking after the affairs of the cannery. Mr. Gorman leaves to night for Kasaan being also interested in the cannery at that place.

A Trip Down West Coast

If you have never taken a trip down the west coast of the Prince of Wales Island you have missed much. From the time you leave Wrangell until you reach Sulzer, near the southerly end of the island the scene is one continuous awe-inspiring panorama. The high rugged mountains, covered with a dense growth of evergreen spruce and hemlock trees, from towering peak to base at the waters edge, reflecting their majesty and grandeur in the deep blue bays, narrow passes and fjords fills one, as your boat goes plowing through the placid waters, with tingling thrills and thankful heart-throbs at the thought of being an inhabitant of and able to view a world with such beauty and majestic grandeur.

On Thursday the 24th inst the writer left Wrangell on the Uncle Dan, not for the purpose of drinking in the beauties of this wonderful piece of coast scenery, but rather on a tour of inspection of business conditions through that section.

Our first stop was at Red Bay where the Vermont Marble Co. are doing some prospecting work. They have about forty men employed and the work so far is extremely satisfactory, finding marble that excels anything heretofore discovered in this section.

At Caulder, another marble deposit, Mr. John McCullom the man in charge, a diamond drill is being used for prospecting with results beyond all expectation, having gone over two hundred feet in fine marble without a flaw, crevice or seam.

Shakan is strictly a cannery town although there is a saw mill located there but it is mainly used for cutting lumber for the cannery's use. The canning season has opened up and Mr. Gorman thinks the outlook is good for a full pack this season.

The Token marble works was our next pause where we found things being done on quite a large scale, there being something over a hundred men employed in and about the quarries. This plant is also owned and operated by the Vermont Marble Co., and has been shipping for several years with an increased output each year.

The Mission Marble works, a few miles from Token, have a few men at work getting in place derricks and machinery for active operation in the near future.

Carheen, the location of the Irving Packing Co's cannery, has a full compliment of fishermen out chasing the elusive salmon and expect to get their share of the funny tribe.

Warm Chuck, where Mr. Craig Millar and Mr. Gary are operating the Swift-Arthur cannery, having purchased those gentlemen's interests in the same, is seen probably the liveliest activities in the fish business of any place along the coast, they having already put up over ten thousand cases, kings, this season and are now mild curing kings as well as canning sockeyes and from the rush and hustle one sees around there they are going to get their share of the "silver board."

Klawock cannery have begun on their pack but it was reported that they were shy of fishermen, however Mr. Hale is a veteran cannery man and will doubtless overcome all difficulties.

In the native town Klawock proper, there is every evidence of prosperity and growth. The bureau of Education has begun the erection of a new school building which will contain all modern appliances and conveniences for educational work. Mr. Hibbs, who is the Government teacher at that place, has charge of the work. The building when completed and equipped will cost in the neighborhood of $8,000. Robert J. Pratowich has begun the construction of quite a commodious building to be used for the exhibition of moving pictures and other entertainments.

Craig, the largest town on the west coast and claimed by some to have as bright prospects for the future as almost any other town in southeastern Alaska. Business seemed to be good considering the conditions of the whole country, her five stores are fairly busy with their trade. The mild curing of king salmon has been temporarily suspended but the cannery has been put in commission and is taking care of all of the fish that come that way. Taking it all in all the business condition on the West Coast is certainly very satisfactory when you consider the conditions prevailing in the business world generally.

New Book Of Alaska Poems

"Alaskaland," is a new book of verse by Mrs. Isabel Ambler Gilman, L. L. B. The poems are all from the pen of Mrs. Gilman, and cover a wide range of Alaskan topics. The book is "designed" says the Alice Harriman company, its publishers, "for supplemental reading in the upper grades of schools; also suitable for Alaskans programs in women's study clubs or public entertainments."

Mrs. Gilman taught school at Petersburg for two years, and for the last several years she has been teaching out at the Westward. She has had a wide Alaska experience.

Nome.—The Northern Trust & Safe deposit company, of Seattle, began action in the courts here Monday against the Anvil Hydraulic & Dredge company, the Nome Mining company, the Wonder Dredging company and E. E. Powell to foreclose on trust deeds amounting to $83,000. The company also asks 8 per cent interest and attorney fees. The filing of the suit has caused a sensation in mining circles here. The companies involved were supposed to be among the most solvent now operating.

Traveling Man Entering Matrimony

The engagement of Miss Agnes
F. Williams to Mr. Lynn B. Adsit was announced yesterday afternoon to their personal and intimate friends.

Both of the young people are well known in Juneau, the bride to be having resided here for the past four years and is at present employed as a stenographer in the
and office. She is a sister of Mrs.
S. L. Burton.

Mr. Adsit is engaged in the brokerage business in Juneau, having succeeded to the business of his father, O. H. Adsit, upon the death of the latter several years ago.

C. W. Young, one of the old pioneers of the town of Juneau, died Saturday at the hospital of Mayo Brothers at Rochester, Minn., following an operation of a serious nature performed about a month ago. He was aged about 62 years. He retired from active business in 1906 and has been traveling most of the time since.
It is said that he was worth about
